

Talk with your group members and decide on 3 front-end validations to implement using JavaScript. Make sure your 3 validation rules are different from the ones your group members are doing. Each group member should have their own 3 unique validations.